lt was decided to use the double umpire

It was decided to use the double umpire system to-day, as it gave such excellent success yesterday. The bell rang to play with the Detroits at the bat.

First Inning—For Detroit, Richardson's fly was captured by O'Neill; Ganzel's by Caruther's and Rowe's by the same man. No uther's and Rowe's by the same man. No runs.

For St. Louis, Rowe's assist retired Latham. White's fumble let Gleason go to first base and Conway's assist retired O'Neill, Gleason going to second. Comiskey's foul fly was caught by White. No runs.

Second Inning—For Detroit Thompson hit a short fly to centre, which Welch muffed after a desperate effort to reach it. White got first on balls. Dunlay's sacrifice advanced the runners a base, and Thompson and White scored on Bennett's hit to left. O'Neill let the ball go through and Bennett got to second. Hanlon hit to Comiskey and was put out at first base. Bennet went to third. Conway foul-tipped out. Two runs for Detroit.

PHILO H. BACKUS'S CHANCES.

Democratic State Committee.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. ALBARY, Oct. 11.-It is reported here that there is trouble ahead for the Democratic Executive Campaign Committee. Mr. Philo H. Backus has been the clerk of the committee during the past two campaigns, and wishes to be continued in such capacity. He is employed in the State Treasurer's office and is well known throughout the State, especially among Democratic politicians. However, much opposition has sprung up against Mr. Backus's re-election as Clerk of the State Campaign Committee. Members of the Committee from New York and Kings Committee have recuested the suportypent of

of the Committee from New York and Kings Counties have requested the appointment of William J. Ellis, a young newspaper man of New York City.

It is said that Mr. Backus feels angry over the opposition of his continuance as clerk of the committee and is vowing vengeance. He has the books and records of the old committee in his possession and may refuse to give them up.

There is a rumor that Gov. Hill does not favor the retention of Mr. Backus as clerk. These reports may arise from mere gossip,

These reports may arise from mere gossip, but they have some believers here. The friends of Mr. Backus are wondering why he has not been reappointed and are shaking their heads when questioned.

A member of the State Committee who read the above despatch said to The Evenino World reporter: "There is some truth in it. From what I can hear, Backus feels very angry and has refused to give up the books and records unless he is ap-pointed. ## ENTHUSIASTIC NEWSBOYS.

Much Joyful Anticipation Over To-Night's Visit to Miner's People's Theatre.

The newsboys were in a condition of not particularly subdued ecstacy this morning at the prospect of the visit to Miner's People's Theatre to-night. It was not necessary to question them very extensively as to their feelings on the subject. Keen anticipatory pleasure was written on their tory pleasure was written on their shining faces, and among the groups stationed at the street corners, there was but one subject of conversation, and that included "Harbor Lights" and the Eventual World, in pleasant combination. One little fellow said he couldn't sleep last night, thinking about it, and though such a confession of puerility could not have been expected from everybody, it is tolerably certain that a great many were equally affected. A visit to a theatre is an epoch in a newsboy's life.

O'Brien Snubbed by the Commissioners. John J. O'Brien wrote to the Police Comnissioners this afternoon demanding that his name should be considered by them in the appointment of the Chief of the Bureau of Elections, despite the fact that his name does not appear on the eligible but furnished to the Commissioners by the Secretary of the Civil-Service Board. He cited legal authority in support of his position, besides stating that his percentage on the examination was above that of all other applicants.

The Commissioners passed a resolution to the effect that as O'Brien's name had not been presented to them the stand of the presented to them the standard not consider him in making the appointment.

It is understood that the case will be fought in the courts.

Democrats Ahead in Newark.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] NEWARE, N. J., Oct. 11.-The charter election is exciting great interest, but Mayor Haynes will be re-elected beyond all doubt. The vote for the Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost is slow, and he will in all probability poll about 3,800 votes. The Prohibitionists and Law and Order people are voting solidly for W. E. Pine, but S. B. Jackson, the regular Republican nominee is not holding his own.

Quarantine Authorities All Right. Washington, Oct. 11.-Marine Hospital authorities do not credit the report of neglect in regard to the quarantine against cholera at New York. On the contrary, re-ports of the officers in charge show remark-ably thorough work.

JEROME PARK RACE TRACE, N. Y., Oct. 11. -The racing was continued here to-day with weather decidedly autumnal. Early in the day occasional showers made the track some. what damp, but not muddy. There was an excellent attendance, but the patience of the crowd was severely tried owing to the delay which occurred in the first race after an excellent break had been spoiled by Billy Donohue on Rupert. The crowd, however, soon fell back on the old one, two, three stamp to keep warm, with occasional indulgence in flights of Early English at Florence M., Royal Arch, Flageoletta and Ten Strike, for successively spoiling start after start. The race was finally won by Eolian, but Rupert sgain fell, as he did on Thursday last, breaking Donohue's right collar bone. Fortunately Dr. Lindsay was present, and at once renewed his acquaintance with Billy, he having had him for a patient a year ago, when he broke his leg at the track of the Brooklyn Jockey Club. The retrack of the Brooklyn Jockey Club. The remainder of the races were promptly run, with Emperor of Norfolk winning the handicap
for two-year-olds; Firenzi the Hunter

the Grand National; Freedom the selling race, and Wellington the steeplechase.

It was a field day for Garrison, he winning three of the six races, and thereby increasing his lead over McLaughlin to six races, Garrison's total being now %4, while McLaughlin's still remains 88.

and Daruna.

The Race.—After a delay of nearly three-quarters of an hour at the post, Royal Arch, being the principal cause of the trouble, the flag fell to a good start, with Flageoletta, Maggie Mitchell, Eolian, Royal Arch and Daruna the leaders. Coming into sight from picnic hill Maggie Mitchell and Flageoletta were half a length apart with Eolian and Royal Arch following. This was the order around the bluff, when Flageoletta assumed command, followed to the head of the stretch by Royal Arch, Eolian and Tarbouche. When straightened for home Garrison called upon Eolian, who at once drew to the front and won an easy race by a length from Royal Arch, easy race by a length from Royal Arch, who was half a length in front of Tarbouche, followed by Daruna and Flage-oletta. At the head of the stretch, Rupert, who was about eighth, fell unaccountably. no horse appearing to interfere with him, and W. Donohue, his rider, was picked up with a broken collar-bone. The Race.—To a good start Prince Royal took a slight lead for the first furlong, but on approaching the half-mile mark he was joined by Satan, Cascade, Prince Royal and Emperor, and they were all in a line with Belinda at their heels. When they began the run around the south field Cascade pushed a length to the front, with Satan second, and Prince Royal getting the whip. Then Murphy made his call upon the Emperor, who came through with ease, and although Belinda made a strong effort at the end, she swerved twice under the pressure, and the Californian beat her a length, while Satan was third and Prince Royal fourth. o Linden, 4 King of Norfolk.

The Race.—They got away at the first attempt all in a bunch, when King of Norfolk ran out, and on passing the stand he was still in the lead by two lengths, followed by Eurus, Linden, Laggard and Volante. No change occurred until well round the lower turn, where Volante, who had been last, made a dash for the lead, but was at once challenged by Linden, who flanked Eurus. The trie made an interesting finish, but Garrison had Linden well in hand and in the final effort defeated Volante by a length, and at the latter's girth was Eurus, followed by Laggard. Mutuels paid $23.45.

curiosity-seekers. Policeman Edward Hahn, young, stalwart and handsome, was a favorite with the ladies on his beat. In fact he had but just left a young lady at her door when he met Capt Jack Hussey on the night of the shooting. Several well dressed and very nice looking young women were met at the door of the court-room to-day with the question, "Are you witnesses?" And a negative reply was met with the gruff reat the door of the benches," and nearly all of those present were actors in the drama of Trial by Jury.

Mrs. Hussey, the widow of the man shot by Policeman Hahn, and her daughter appeared in Court for the first time this morning. Mrs. Hussey was dressed in deepest mourning, a large vail hanging about her head, framing a sad and weary-eyed face.

Hahn's expression of anxious interest was resumed with the calling of the first witness, and he never took his eyes off a witness during his examination. Counsellor Howe wore his third outfit to-day, from shoes to scarfpin, it being the third day of the trial. A golden owl, with dazzling diamond eyes, looked out from his neck scarf.

Michael Lally, of Monroe street, testified that he had a drink with Jack Hussey at 9 o'clock on the evening of the shooting and Hussey was sober then.

Col. Fellows—What next happened? A. I left Hussey. At about 11.80 heard a shot. I was a block away and ran down to Jackson and Cherry streets. I saw Hahn on one side of the street and Jack Hussey on the other. Hahn had a revolver in his hand, Hussey was leaning against a wagon, and Hahn said: "Get out of the way, young fellow. I'm going to shoot." I went along up the street and Hahn fred the revolver. Then a street car came along and passed between them. After it passed Hahn raised then going towards Hahn, and they were about sifteen paces apart. Hussey put his hand on his side and cried out: "Take me to the hospital. I am shot," Hahn retreated down the street and people led Hussey away.

A crowd of twenty or thirty had gathered on the corner and followed Hussey, the witness continued. After he was shot Hussey bent down on one knee, and a man named McLaughlin picked him up and kept him by the arm till Officer Dugan came up. Officer Dugan said, "I'll blow the roof of your head off if you strke me," to Hussey. Hussey had on no hat nor shoes. Hahn wore a suit of gray.

This is the most damaging testimony thus far, as it so clearly shows premeditation and deliberation. Lally's knowledge of the matter had evidently not been known to Counseller Howe, and he showed his sur-prise in his flushed face. Policeman Timothy Dacey testified:

I saw Jack Hussey but once. I passed Jackson and Cherry street in a street car on the night of June 2. I heard a pistol-shot when I was about thirty feet from the corner, and I saw a young man in a gray suit of clothes go out into the road and shoot, bang-bang.

Then witness saw Hussey, and heard him say he was shot. Officer Dugan came up, and Hussey gave him a slight, harmless push. By Mr. Howe—Dacey, you say the pistol went bang, bang. The shots were very close together, were they? A. Mebbe half a minute, or perhaps

Q. Well, now, that—can't you do better than that? A. Well, I'll tell you; when a man's firing a pistol around, a man don't look for much only to get out of the way. I didn't know but I was going to get the next shot. When there's shooting going on a man don't tarry long to get points! going to get the next anot. When there's shooting going on a man don't tarry long to get points!

Henry Featherstone, a laborer, of 419 Cherry street, testified that he left the saloon before Hussoy and McLauphlin emerged and saw Hahn walking away from the saloon. Hussey came out presently and crossed the sidewalk and stood by a wagon there. Then he saw Hahn fire his pistol in Hussey's direction. Featherstone turned away and heard another shot, after which Hahn walked away. No one molested Hahn.

Mr. Howe in cross-examination tried hard to show that the wagon by which Hussey stood was between him and Hahn, and succeeded by the use of an amateur drawing, in which he said his wagon must be labelled. Then he returned to his place outside the rail, and leaning on the rail said cozily:

"Now, Featherstone, stretch your imagina-

"Yes, sir."
"Well, then," said the lawyer, straighten-well, then," said the lawyer, straighten-ing up, thrusting his hands into his trousers, swelling his bosom and putting on an expres-sion of triumphant innocence, "Well, then, Hussey was behind the wagon, wasn't he?" Hussey was behind the wagon, wasn't he?"

"The way you illustrate it, yes. Hussey's head, shoulders and half his body was above the top of the wagon."

Counselor Howe opened the case for the defense in a half-hour address in which be claimed that Hahn believed himself in danger of his life when he shot Hussey.

Dr. Edward C. Mann testified that Hussey's word was a slight one of the life was a light to the state of the wound was a slight one and not at all serious, if Dr. Scholer's description was correct, and Joseph O'Neil, a truckman, swore that he saw the shooting and that Hahn's first two shots were in the air, after which the trial was adjourned till to-morrow.

Framing the Evening World. The I. O. T. Association, which has its club-rooms at Twenty-ninth street and Eighth avenue, had a delegation at the World office yesterday afternoon and proworks omce yesterday arternoon and pro-cured one of the first copies of the new Evenning Works that was printed. At a meeting of the club last evening it was de-cided to have the copy of the paper elegantly framed and hung upon the club-room wall. The Walter V. McNally Association, through a motion of Mr. John Hart, decided to do likewise.

PROBABLY TWENTY PERSONS KILLED.

Terrible Railroad Accident on the Chicago and Atlantic Railroad.

NORTH JUDSON, Ind., Oct. 11 .- A terrible railroad accident occurred just west of here last night. A fast freight train ran into the rear of an express train and four or five cars were burned, including a Pullman sleeper. From fifteen to twenty are dead, and as many more injured. The wreck is on the Chicago and Atlantic Road. Kout, the small station near which it occurred, is fifty-five miles from Chicago. It is inferred that the ill-fated train was the passenger and express from the East due in Chicago this morning. A relief expedition was quickly and secretly organized by the railroad officials here and despatched to the scene. Other help was to be hurried forward as soon as possible. The officials of the company refuse all information. As nearly as can be be judged the horror occurred between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning.

A telegram received at 11.35 a. M. says that ten dead bodies had already been taken from the wreck, and the men conducting the ghastly work were unable to say how many other corpses were still in the debris. In addition to the killed the injured number at least twenty-one persons. least twenty-one persons.

WEBSTER'S GREAT MYSTERY.

Queer Conduct of the Woodstock Hotel-Keeper-A Discovery by Two Boys. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

WEBSTER, Mass., Oct. 11.-The fresh evilence in the Lillie Hoyle murder, published exclusively in THE EVENING WORLD of yesterday, has excited no little comment here, and there are many who believe that the first big clue has at last been hit upon. The story told by Mr. Wilson, of Woodstock, that the occupants of a carriage he met on the night the girl disappeared were lookon the night the girl disappeared were lookfor a place of rendezvous and that one of the young ladies was evidently suffering pain, in itself would seem entitled to careful investigation, but, taken in connection with the strange conduct of the hotelkeeper at West Woodstock, to which place the occupants of the carriage were directed, it has even greater weight.

The strength of the evidence is still further increased by the fact that a carriage, now believed to be the same as seen near Woodstock, was also seen later in the night in the village here.

The vicinity of Woodstock is just the sort of a locality which would naturally be selected to keep a secret. It is a little more than ten miles from here, and is not connected with the outside world by railroad or telegraph wire. The highways round about are seldom travelled after sundown. If it had been desired to take the girl's life, or to perform a secret operation, the vicinity would have been well chosen.

The idea of premeditation in the murder in connection with the new theory is now pretty generally thrown aside, as it would not seem likely that the murderer would have been seeking a public house if they had intended to commit the crime. On the other hand, if they had intended to administer a fatal dose of chloroform and should have made the pretense to their victim that the dose was to enable them to perform an operation, it would have been almost necessary, in order to carry out the deceit, to take her to some would have been almost necessary, in order to carry out the deceit, to take her to some Last night a glove, a handkerchief and

Last night a glove, a handkerchief and a bottle of alcohol were discovered concealed in the walls of an old building a few hundred feet from the spot where the body of the girl was found.

The handkerchief was marked "C. E. Hoyle," her brother's name. The articles were found by two boys who were playing about the building, and who, like many other of the inhabitants here, have become amateur detectives since the tragedy was made public. The things were turned over to the authorities.

A Boy Bound, Gagg od and Robbed.

WALTHAM, Oct. 11.-Charles James, seven teen years old, entered the yard of his house at midnight last night and, being at midnight last night and, being without his latch key, went around under his mother's window to call her. Suddenly he was seized by two men who bound his hands and feet and gazged him, and after having rifled his pockets of $15, left him lying half unconcious on the ground. After a time he was able to loosen the cords about his feet and crawl to the door of the house.

CHICAGO AND ATLANTIC ROAD. Two Trains Collide with Fearful Effect-1 Derailed Cars Catch Fire—Thirty Pousses Badly Burned—Story of a Passenger— Horrible Scenes—A Child Rescued While

His Parents were Burned to Beath.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Seventeen persons were killed and thirty badly injured in an acci-dent on the Chicago and Atlantic Railroad, near Coutts, Ind., early this morning. A fast freight train ran into the rear of an express train. The cause was a misplaced switch, One of the passengers says he saw a man from Taunton, Mass., at the wreck, who told this story: He was sitting in the forward coach a aleeper—when was awakened by the crash and splinters flying all about him, but he cecaped practically unburt and was soon helped out of the ruins. He joined the rescuing party, who were already at work, helping all who could be helped. The wreck was already on fire and burning rapidly with intense heat. Three women were held down by timbers near one corner of the burning coach, and were crying pitiously for help. Brave efforts was made to save them, but the flames came on so rapidly that they were left to their fate. Mr. F. Cramer, General Western Passenger Agent of the Guyon Line, was in the wr but escaped unhurt and will go east this evening.

The wrecked train had stopped near a water tank, two miles east of Coutt's Station, to repair a damaged eccentric rod. A man was sent back to signal the freight train, but for some reason failed.

The blazing wreck lit up the scene in an awful way, and screams and groans of wounded and dying added to its horror, while the struggles of those who were imprisoned and were slowly roasting alive were too hor. rible to describe.

A little Bohemian boy was got out alive. but so badly bruised that he cannot live. His father, mother and sister were killed where they sat. They had started to retreate the old country.

MINISTER MANNING DEAD.

The Exd so Unexpected That None of His Friends Were at His Bedside.

Judge Thomas C. Manning, United St. Minister to Mexico, died at the Fifth Avenue Hotel at 9.15 o'clock this morning.

He arrived at the hotel from his home in New Orleans Tuesday of last week to attend the meeting of the Peabody Educational Fund, of which he was a trustee. That evening he was taken suddenly ill with peritonitis and remained in his bed until his death this morning. Though aware of his illness his family were led to understand that it was not necess a fatal attack and, in consequence, not one of his relatives or friends were at his bedside when he died. Dr. William M. Polk, of No. 18 East Thirty-fourth street, was the attending physician. The remains were taken in charge by Undertakers James S. Huyler & Son, of No.
